As the Ottawa High School Pirates sailed through the 1967-68 school year, they encountered new adventures, they endured hardships, and they found relaxation and amusement in their many activities. The Pirates appreciated the GUIDANCE offered by the administration and the teachers' willingness to help them in their pursuance of KNOWLEDGE. They realized the POTENTIAL in their fellow students and gained EXPERIENCE in Civic Council, National Honor Society, and other organizations. In the sports events Pirate SPIRIT carred the boys on to victory. Not only did the students demonstrate their ability in athletics, but also they revealed their TALENT in music, art, and speech. They found ENJOYMENT, too, at the various dances and at the homecoming festivities. Each new experience was stored in the Pirate treasure chest. Only the Key to OHS will unlock this chest filled with memories.

Administration

Many hours are spent in the main office by Superintendent Gordon Fidler to maintain the high standards of Ottawa High. The responsibility of bringing the highest possible standard of education to the youth of Ottawa lies upon him. Helping Mr. Fidler carry out this task is Mr. Robert Colborn, who transferred to Ottawa from Rock Falls. He filled the vacancy created by Mr. George Willy's retirement last spring.

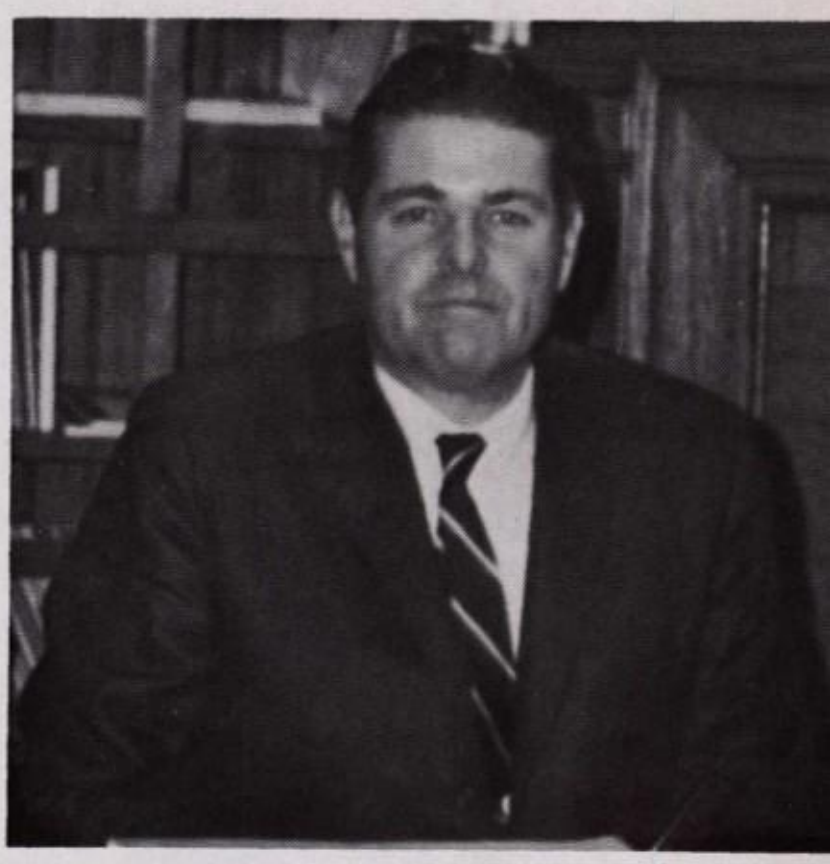
Andrew O'Conor Leads OHS School Board

Formulating and executing the community's educational policy is the demanding job of the Ottawa High School Board of Education, working closely with Superintendent Gordon Fidler and his assistant Robert Colburn.

President of the 1967-1968 board, Mr. Andrew O' Conner presided over the various meetings needed for the preparation of the annual budget, choosing the teaching staff, and employees, maintaining the school, and making the many decisions that bring about a community's educational growth.

Other members of the board are Robert E. Johnston, Dr. Robert W. Rieman, Lyle T. Bragg, Andrew J. O'Conor, Gordan L. Fidler, Dr. Philip J. Wendel, A. LaClair Perkins, the late Arthur L. Walter, and Robert Colborn.



Andrew J. O'Conor, President of the Ottawa High School Board of Education '67-'68.

John D. Gleim, a Grand Ridge farmer, was appointed to the Ottawa High School Board this year to fill the unexpired term of the late Arthur Walter.

Before his appointment to the OHS Board, Mr. Gleim was serving on the Grand Ridge Board. Gleim is a 1950 OHS graduate and has attended the University of Illinois.

There was sorrow in the Administration department as well as all of Ottawa High when we heard last December of the death of Arthur L. Walter, a member of the Ottawa High School Board of Education.

In 1953, Mr. Walter became the first member of the OHS Board to be named from a rural area. Then in 1957, he succeeded the late Dan Riordan as the board's president.

Mr. Walter is noted for being the founder of the Walter Seed Co. in 1934 and its first president.

Before his election to the Ottawa Board, he served as president of the LaSalle County Board of School Trustees and was on the Grand Ridge School Board.

In addition to his widespread business interests, Arthur Walter was active in many organizations. He served as Chairman of the board of trustees of the Grand Ridge Methodist Church and was a member of the Ottawa Rotary Club. He was also associated with the Streator Masonic Lodge, Order of Easter Star, White Shrine of Jerusalem, Bloomington Consistory and Mohammed Shrine of Peoria.

He was also a member of the board of trustees of Peoria, Methodist Hospital and the executive Committee of the Starved Rock Council Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Walter was educated in the Grand Ridge schools and attended Brown's Business College in Ottawa.

Vocational Skills Gained

Electronics, industrial arts, metal shop, mechanical drawing, and woodshop are the vocational courses offered at Ottawa High School for boys. These courses help students to gain knowledge and experience in the fields of engineering electronics, mechanics, and architecture.

The industrial department helps the student receive valuable training in the field which he is concerned. Standards and rules in the shop are exactly the same as they are on the job.

For the girls, courses in cooking, sewing, and home management are offered. Cooking students participate in meal planning and the preparation of tasty foods while sewing students master techniques of expanding their wardrobes. In the seniors' home-management classes, the girls begin plans for their dream homes and future lives.

English: Key to Understanding

Harry F. Adrian
B.A., M.Ed., Lincoln University, St. Mary's College, Winona, Minn., Missouri University, Northern Illinois University, Missouri State College, University of Illinois

The aim of the English program is to achieve the maximum development in organization, expression, evaluation, and critical thinking. To achieve these aims, a semester of speech was instituted at the sophomore level.

Although a semester of English had to be omitted to make room for speech, students gain more benefits in the long run. Early training by qualified speech teachers can help students achieve ease in appearing before an audience. Besides building self-confidence, the student learns the importance of effective listening and how to present his ideas effectively.

Speech helps the student develop the ability to hold discusssions and debates which can be useful in other classes. It is hoped that this early training will lead some students to the related areas of dramatics, debate, and interpretive reading. Speech can strengthen the student's ability to evaluate and to discuss, while giving him better preparations for college.

Each English student is placed in a section where he can succeed and still be challenged. Maximum development in the areas of organization of thought, paragraph structure, efficient library use, and literary appreciation are strived for. Development of reading and writing skills and correct English usage is important for success in school.

Wide Choice of Languages Offered

The incoming freshman has quite a decision to make upon scheduling a language into his studies. "Should it be 'Guten Tag', 'Salve', 'Hola', or 'Bonjour' for me?" This decision involves considerably more than one imagines at first.

In our foreign language program, we not only try to understand the language, but we try to understand the people, their country, and their way of life.

The most modern electronic aids are used to provide experience in the conversational form of each language while time-tested methods are freely intermixed with innovation in the study of syntax, grammar and writing technique.

The influence of the language department spreads throughout the school on holidays and during special seasons as each student observes the special days with a fitting form of greeting or a significant decoration in classroom and corridor. This entering into the national scene of an adopted country is one more way of drawing nearer to another people.

"Smuggle me across the border and nobody will know me from his great aunt's grandson," may not be an empty boast for the hearty soul who manages to "stay with it" for the full OHS course. "Send me to Rome; my Latin is right up there with the best of them!"

Will Be

History courses strive to lead to better world understanding. The objective of the history teacher today is to give the student an understanding of the forces and influences which have formed his heritage by presenting material factually and objectively, hoping to overcome prejudices and misconceptions.

The courses in the social sciences include world history, modern history, U.S. History, sociology, economics, and psychology. It is hoped that the study of these subjects will give students knowledge of the world and awareness of the need for citizen involvement in the search for solutions to its many problems.

Mathematics the Key to Solving Problems

As in the past, OHS provides three mathematics courses: general mathematics, college preparatory, and accelerated mathematics. The three programs enable each student to study a mathematical program geared to his own personal needs. General math provides a course for students not planning to attend college. In the college prep course, the students plan for the mathematics required in college work. Students in the accelerated program study mathematics preparing them for a career in mathematics or one requiring more advanced mathematics.

Each year the Annual High School Examination in mathematics is given to all interested juniors and seniors. The three highest scores are then entered in state and national competition.

At commencement, the John Hoff Award is presented to the graduating senior, who is chosen as the outstanding math student.

Science Is Key to Tomorrow

Where have all the flowers gone? The biology students have picked them all. During the year they also collect insects and leaves. Every student looks forward to the day when he gets to disect the earthworm. From the chemistry lab comes the familiar odor of sulfur dioxide or as it's more commonly known the smell of rotten eggs. While this experiment is the one that always seems to "get around the school" it is only one of the many fascinating processes that are studied in chemistry. Eek! Advanced biology is not exactly the place for squimish students. In the course of a year they dissect and study crayfish, fetal pigs, and frogs. The purpose of dissecting these animals is to study the functions of their organs.

What "boy's class" has lately been overrun with girls? Physics. Traditionally a preserve for the gentleman scholar, the science of engineers and rocketmen has more girls attending than ever, this year, for the first time in anybody's memory.

Under the leadership of Mr. Charles Alikonis, the O.H.S. science department takes great steps to keep up to date with the progressing world. The school is kept up to date with new equipment and other "in" educational devices that become available to it. Physiography and practical science are two more challenging courses.

Business Prepares Tomorrow's Secretary

The secretary of tomorrow is well prepared for her job because of the training she has received from the varied program offered at OHS. College study skills, shorthand, bookkeeping, sales, general business, typing, and office procedure are courses which are offered to interested business students.

Through these business education courses, students gain a glimpse of the business world. Students who enroll in these courses gain considerable knowledge to assist them in future endeavors.

Stay Trim with Gym

During the year, students participate in varied activities in the physical education field. While the girls concentrate on such slenderizing sports as tennis, field hockey, archery, basketball, badminton, and tumbling, the boys spend their time on body building sports such as pushball, softball, baseball, soccer, and physical conditioning.

Freshman spend nine weeks on health and dancing, while the upperclassmen excell in tumbling apparatus. Sophomore and junior boys have military drill every Thursday.

Carrying out the program for the girls are Mrs. Dorthy Jensen, Mrs. Susan Bruns, and Miss Laurel Grundmeier. Mr. Nickolas Milosevich heads the boys program, assisted by Mr. Robert Raudonis, Mr. Robert Purcell, and Mr. Marvin Graunke.

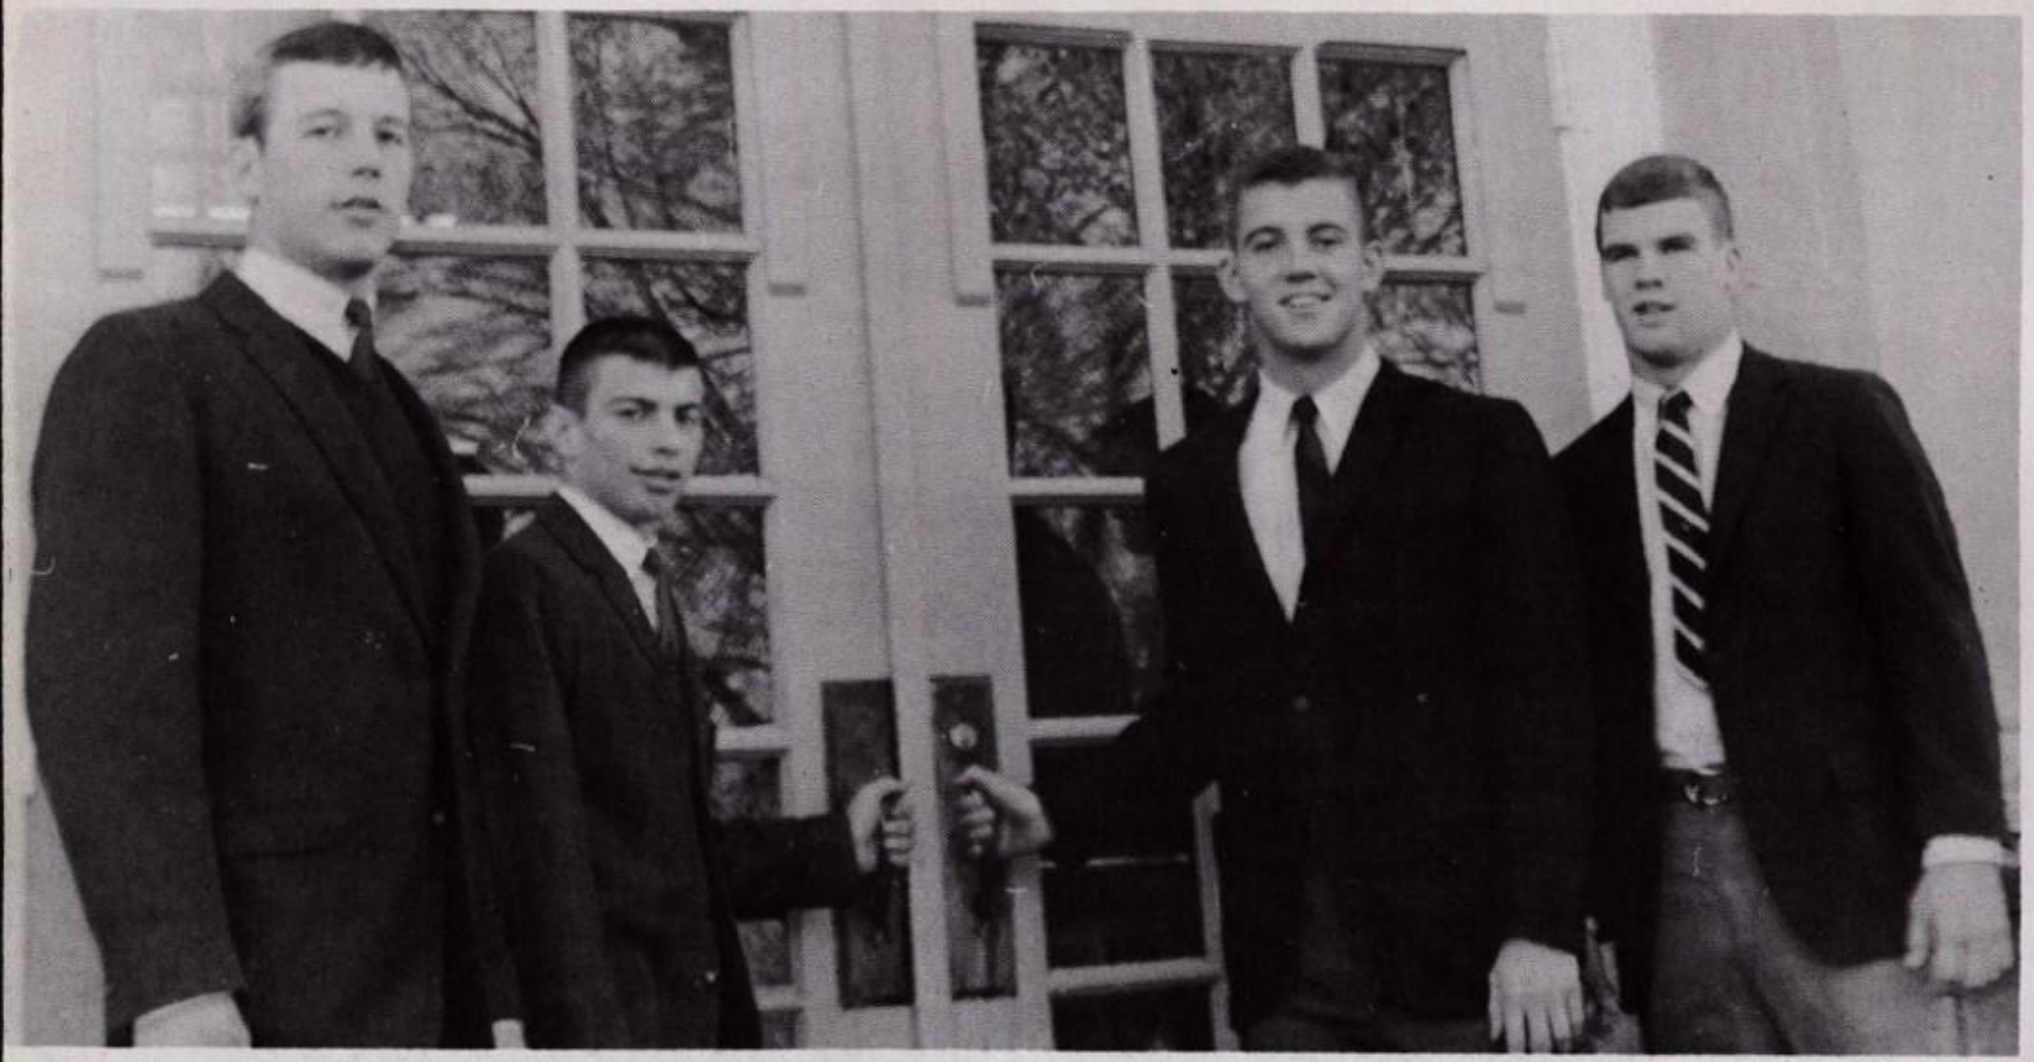
Potential



Closing the door to their high school career, Vice-President Randy Olson, President Joel Cechowitz, Secretary Ken Herington, and Treasurer Scott Willis bid farewell to OHS.

Tears glazed his eyes as the Senior watched his classmates proudly receive their diplomas. The four years he'd spent at Ottawa High School had been filled with excitement, sorrow, joy, study, and sharing.

As a freshman, he'd become acquainted with the many activities and the various traditions of OHS. As a sophomore, he'd felt that he was truly a part of the student body. As a junior, he'd realized that half of his high school was already completed. Now, as a graduating senior, he greeted the world with mixed emotions.

He treasured the memories of his senior year: the Homecoming skit, a take-off on West Side Story, the buying of Senior Key charms, lavaliers, and key chains, the candy and popcorn sales at the home basketball games, the Senior Breakfast, and the Senior Day Assembly.

He remembered the radiant expression on Queen Becky Grot's face as she reigned over the Homecoming festivities. He recalled the sparkle in Senior Attendant Atha Hilliard's eyes as she preceeded Queen Becky across King Field during halftime, while former attendants Jacki McNamara and Karen Leki sat in the bleachers and remembered how they had represented the Class of 1968 in past Homecomings.

He realized, too, that the senior activities were successful only because of the careful planning done by his fellow classmates coupled with the guidance of the class advisor, Mr. Robert Johnson, and the leadership of the four man team of officers: Joel Cechowitz, President; Randy Olson, Vice-President; Ken Herington, Secretary; and Scott Willis, Treasurer. Truly an asset to the officers was the past experience of Randy Olson and Ken Herington who both served three years as officers to their class. While serving as Freshman President, Randy was assisted by Jeff Claus, Vice-President; Sue Fender, Secretary, and Ken Herington, Treasurer. Ken began his second year as an officer, as Vice-President under Sophomore President Wendy Woodward. Completing the team was Elaine Cole, Secretary; and Dennis Rodrequez, Treasurer. Randy reclaimed the familiar Presidential post his Junior year and directed fellow officers Roy DeLaGarza, Vice-President; Genela Gregor, Secretary, and Becky Grot, Treasurer.

These memories of life as a student at OHS gripped the Senior's mind, and tears continued to well up in his eyes. Yet, a smile slowly spread across his face. He understood now that life would not end with graduation from high school. Rather, the years he'd spent at OHS were only keys opening the door to another life—a life he could look forward to with joy and confidence.

Mark Seniors Final Steps

Jobst, Wagner Head Junior Class

Starting off their activities for one of the most active years of their high school career, the class of 1969 chose Tom Jobst as their President. Assisting Tom in his many duties as an officer were Kent Wagner, Vice-President; Peg Igmunson, Secretary; and Karen Danelson, Treasurer. These leaders proved their efficiency as they carried out plans for the Junior Banquet, Junior Carnival, and the Junior-Senior Prom.

Friday, October the thirteenth proved a lucky day for Junior Leslie Smith as she was chosen to represent her class in Queen Becky's court. The Junior class float captured second place in the float competition with a bulldog turning on a stick over an open fire with the theme "Let's Eat 'em Up!"

The ambitious Juniors raised the necessary funds for their projects by selling football badges, pompoms, during the football season, and pop at the home basketball games.

Supervising the activities was class advisor, Mr. John Duffin.

Now upperclassmen, Treasurer Karen Danelson, President Tom Jobst, Vice-President Kent Wagner, and Secretary Peg Ingemunson assume the responsibility of the class officer posts.

Mr. Colborn enjoys refreshments served by Barbara Funk at the Christmas tea.

Proud of their accomplishments as class officers are Laura Sandrolini, Treasurer; Colon Willis, Vice-president; Cheryl Serby, Secretary; and Rich Hornbeck, President.

Hornbeck, Willis, Serby, Sandrolini Share Spotlight

The class of '70 entered Ottawa this year no longer 'flustered freshman' and not yet upperclassmen. They amused, enjoyed, and benefitted from their role as sophomores.

The first big project of the year was Homecoming. The Friday the 13th celebration was a lucky day for Janice Pallai as she was elected to serve her class as Sophomore Attendant. The Sophomore float 'Let's Pour It On' featuring a bulldog in a bathtub won first place in the float competition.

Serving as class officers were Rich Hornbeck, President, Colon Willis, Vice-President; Laura Sandrolini, Treasurer; and Cheryl Serby, Secretary.

Money making projects to add to the class treasury included—candy bars, and consession stand work. Acting as class adviser was Mr. William Hamilton.

Freshman Begin High School Career

To direct their initial year of activities, freshman students elected Ron Stillwell, president; Rick McCullough, vice president; Donna Hasse, secretary; and Dan Eilts, treasurer.

In October the freshman hosted the traditional Freshman Night consisting of an assembly for the parents, followed by refreshments. The two money making projects of the class of 1971 were selling candy and Ottawa High School sweat shirts.

Debbie Pike was named by her classmates as freshman Homecoming attendant. The class float tied for third place in the competition. Miss Hess was class adviser.

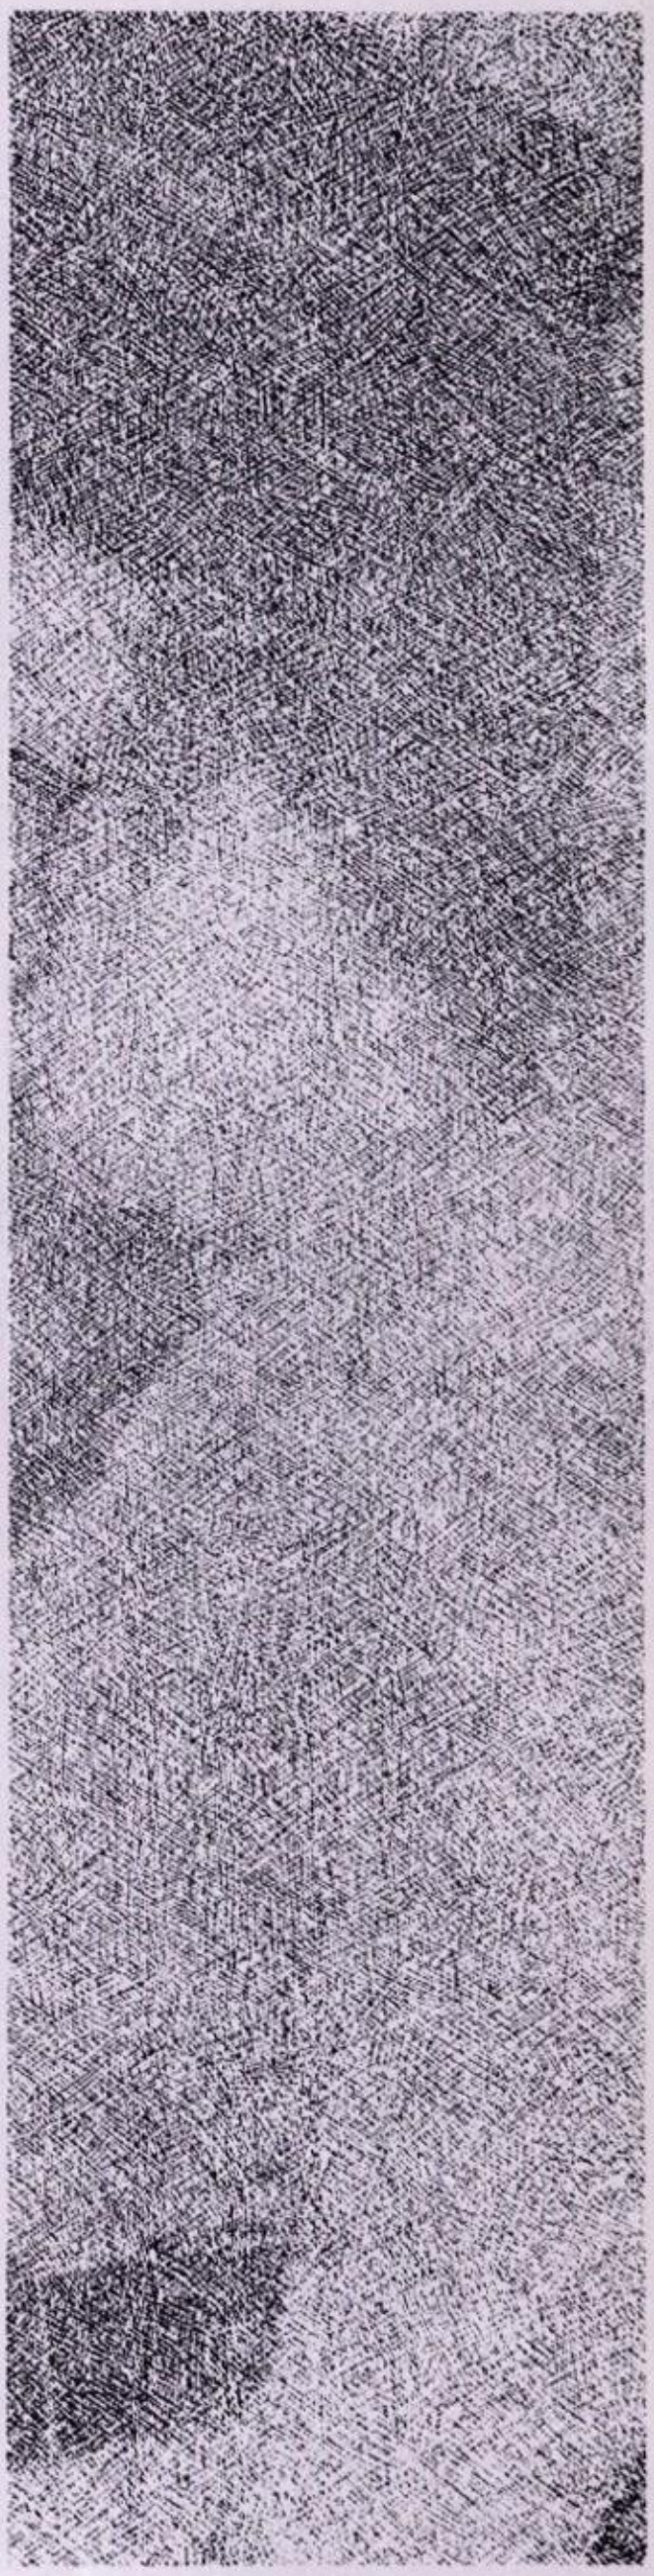
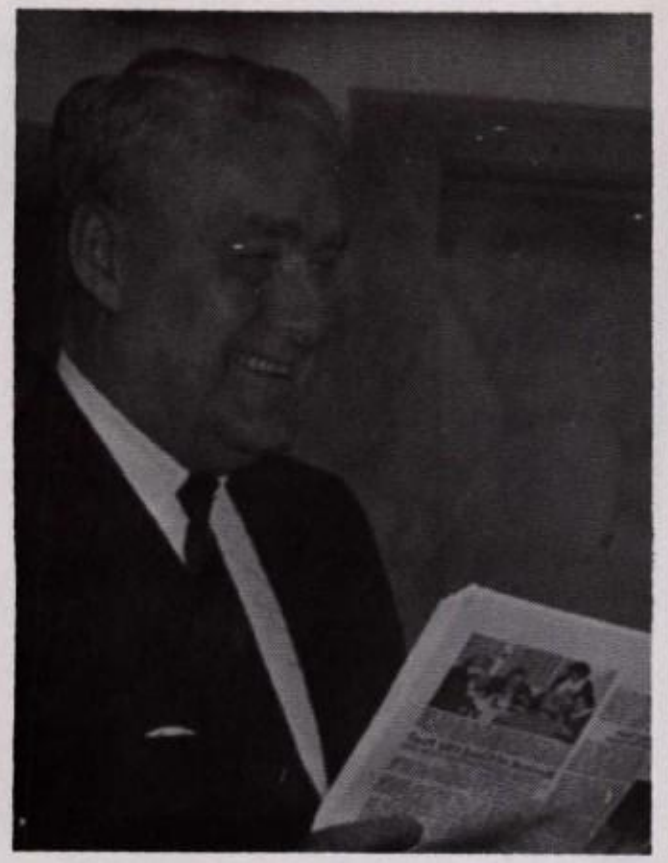
Experience





Mr. Robert Burns has plenty of reasons to be elated as he sees another edition of the Buc printed.

Underclassman worker Beth Hann learns the art of preparing dummy sheets from Chris Lieske, who served as Assistant Editor during the first semester.

Staff members are used to hectic moments as the deadlines approach.

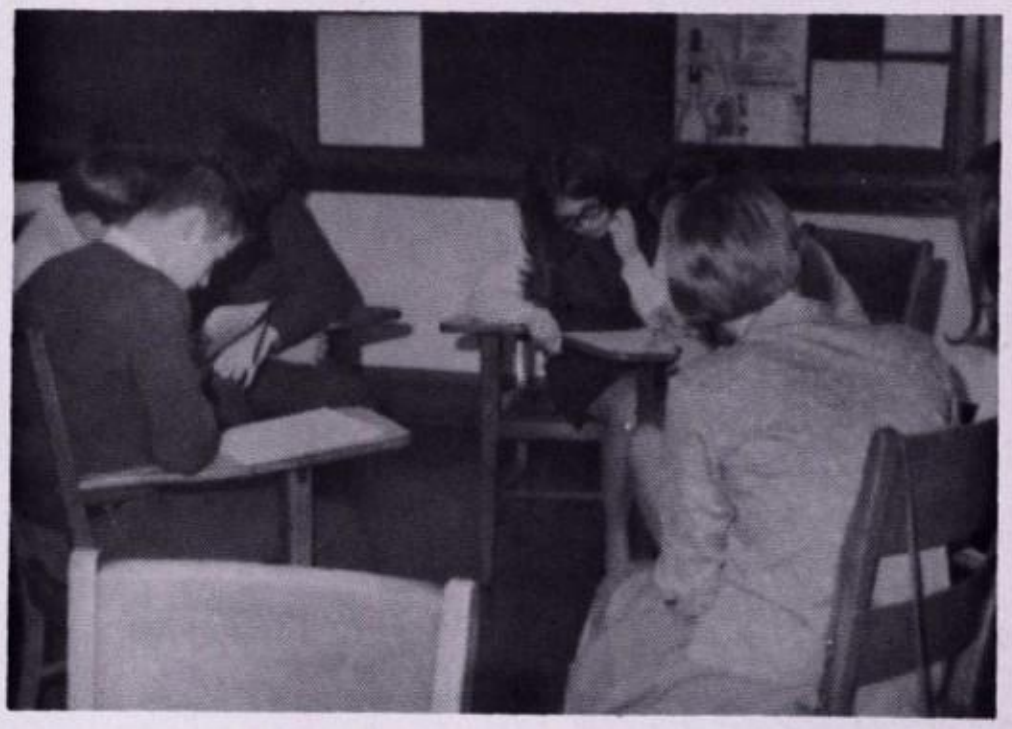
Buccaneer Informs SHO

This year the BUCCANEER was under the editorship of three different editors. First semester editor was Gay Cook, and Chris Esmond and Donna Hill shared the co-editorship second semester.

The bi-weekly publication was supervised by Mr. Robert Burns. Journalism students cooperated in the preparation of articles for the BUCCANEER.

Several journalists earned the honor of membership in Quill and Scroll, an international high school journalist's society.

Senior members Diane Vezain, Diane Gerding, Mary Machino, Sue Irion, Mary Aldersea, and Vickie Ryberg discuss the make-up of the magazine.



Gene Duffy, Stan Willis, Dan Hale, Nancy Bernardini, Virgene Sherman, Donnette Taylor, and Betsy Luther read during a PIRATEER meeting.

PIRATEER in its present bound magazine form has been published at OHS for only four years. Previous to this it was a supplement to the BUCCANEER. The magazine contains not only literary material, but also prize winning paintings, drawings, and photographs.

NHS Lights the Way with Leadership

With sixty-four members, the National Honor Society for 1968 was the largest in the history of the society at Ottawa High School. The officers for the year were Janel Hiland, president; Ken Carroll, vice-president; Ray Day, treasurer; and Janet Muus, secretary. The faculty advisors were Miss Georgia Powell and Mr. Dean Barickman.

During the year, the NHS members worked diligently in projects for profit and service. The Buzz Book was sold early in the year. Candy bars were sold at both lunch halves with special sales at holiday times. A coat check was provided at all home basketball games. Any donations were used for the American Field Service fund. The Exam Bust dance was sponsored by NHS this year. Two other projects carried out by the National Honor Society were an art exhibit and the mile of pennies race.

It Was a Very Good Year . . .

It is a great honor and privilege for me to be an American Field Service student. I have enjoyed my year in Ottawa. The teachers and the students have been very helpful to me throughout the school year. There have been times when I was confused and bewildered, but my Ottawa friends have come to my rescue.

I want to thank everyone for the help, encouragement, and opportunities that I have enjoyed this year. I hope that I will be able to share my experiences with my fellow Uruguayans.

Ana Fernández Abey

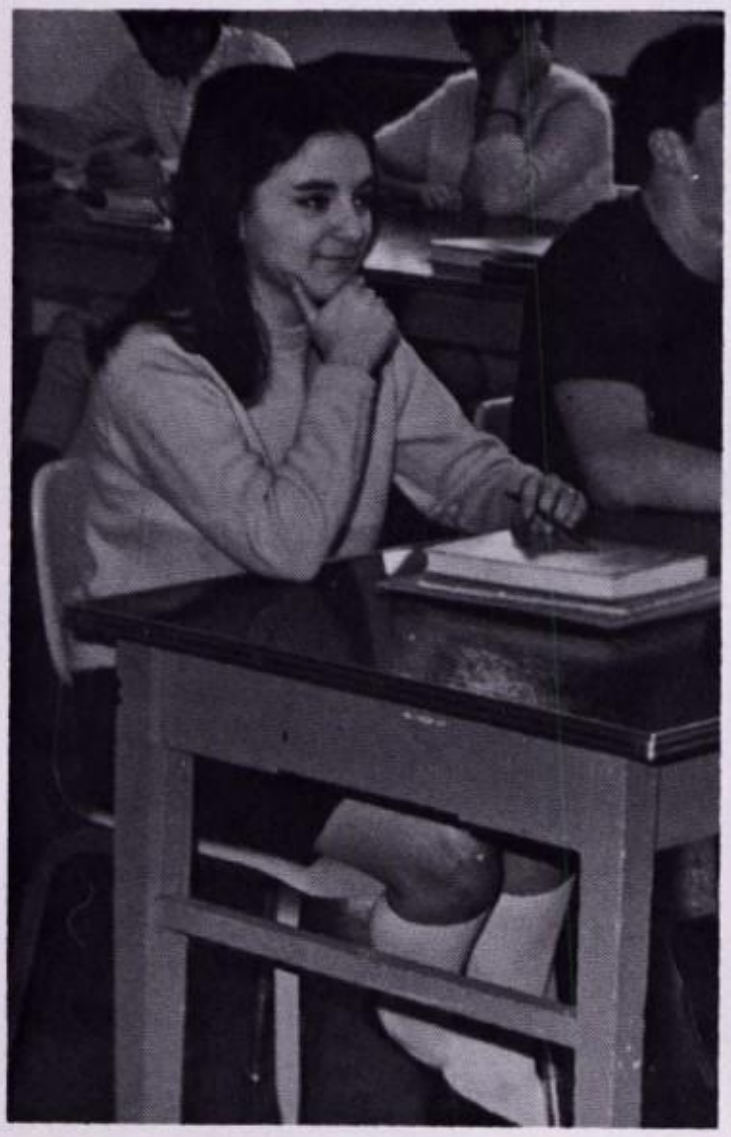
Ana Felicia Fernández Abreu from Rocha, Uruguay, was OHS's American Field Service student for the 1967-68 school year. The year was filled with experiences of a new school, new surrounding, and a new family. She cheered the Pirates on to victory and studied diligently for her classes. With her American sister, Sue Irion, Ana helped with preparations for various holidays, many of which were new to her. It was really a good year for Ana and for OHS.



Council Directs Student Activities

The Civic Council has worked long and hard throughout the year to be a successful organization.

Council members began the school year with the sponsoring of club registration. Other first semester activities included Homecoming festivities, the Carl Sandburg Drive, and the rental of stadium chairs at the home basketball games. Major second semester projects included the United Fund Drive and the United Fund Clothing Drive.

Officers for the first semester were Bill Bernardoni, chairman; Larry Pike, vice-chairman; and Jim Zidow, secretary. Larry moved into the chairman post for the second semester and was assisted by George Sutherland, vice-chairman; and Dianna Navarro, secretary.

Class representatives on the Executive Board were Tina Sipula, freshman; Wally Kistenfeger, sophomore; Mike Lacke, junior; and Ray Day, senior. In the spring, Mike Lacke and Stephanie Zippay were chosen as delegates to the annual Illinois State Student Council Convention.

She and Jody Grivetti, vice-president; Nancy Tassoni, secretary; Karen Knottek, treasurer and scrap book chairman; Kay Wright and Sheila Schomas, points chairman; led the GAAers under the supervision of Mrs. Bruns.

Among many of the activities in which the girls participated were tennis, basketball, riflery, volleyball, TAT (trampoline, apparatus, tumbling), and softball. The school participated in the postal tournaments for swimming and bowling.

The 2nd Annual Faculty Fun Night was again enjoyed by all who attended. Other activities included the bicycle hike and a campout. The climax of the year was the Mother Daughter Banquet at which special awards were given and the officers for next year were announced.

Ken Herington Leads OCC

Cadet Col. Ken Herington headed the Ottawa Cadet Corp this year as Regimental Commander. Other top staff members were Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Randy Olson and Cadet Major Joel Cechowitz, adjutant.

Altogether there were a total of 31 junior boys and 20 senior boys who were military officers this year. They directed at military class activities, ushered at social functions, sponsored the Military Ball, served as color guards at ceremonies, directed the Military Review, and escorted the Homecoming court during festivities on October 13.

Military instructors this year were Mr. Nicholas Milosevich, Mr. Robert Purcell, Mr. Marvin Graunke, and Mr. Robert Raudonis.

Intramural Program Varies Sports

Under the direction of Mr. Nickolas Milosevich, intramural sports opens a wide variety of competitive programs for all OHS boys. Adjusting its program to the seasons of the school year, it offers such sports as cross county, flag football, basketball, tug-of-war, volleyball, track and field, and many others.

By spending a short time over their usual school hours, team members may compete among their classmates for ribbons and intramural team points.

Teams are formed by the gym classes and are named by the boys in that class. The four separate divisions are made up by the four high school classes; freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior. Each division is then divided into the separate teams who compete between themselves for the championship titles.

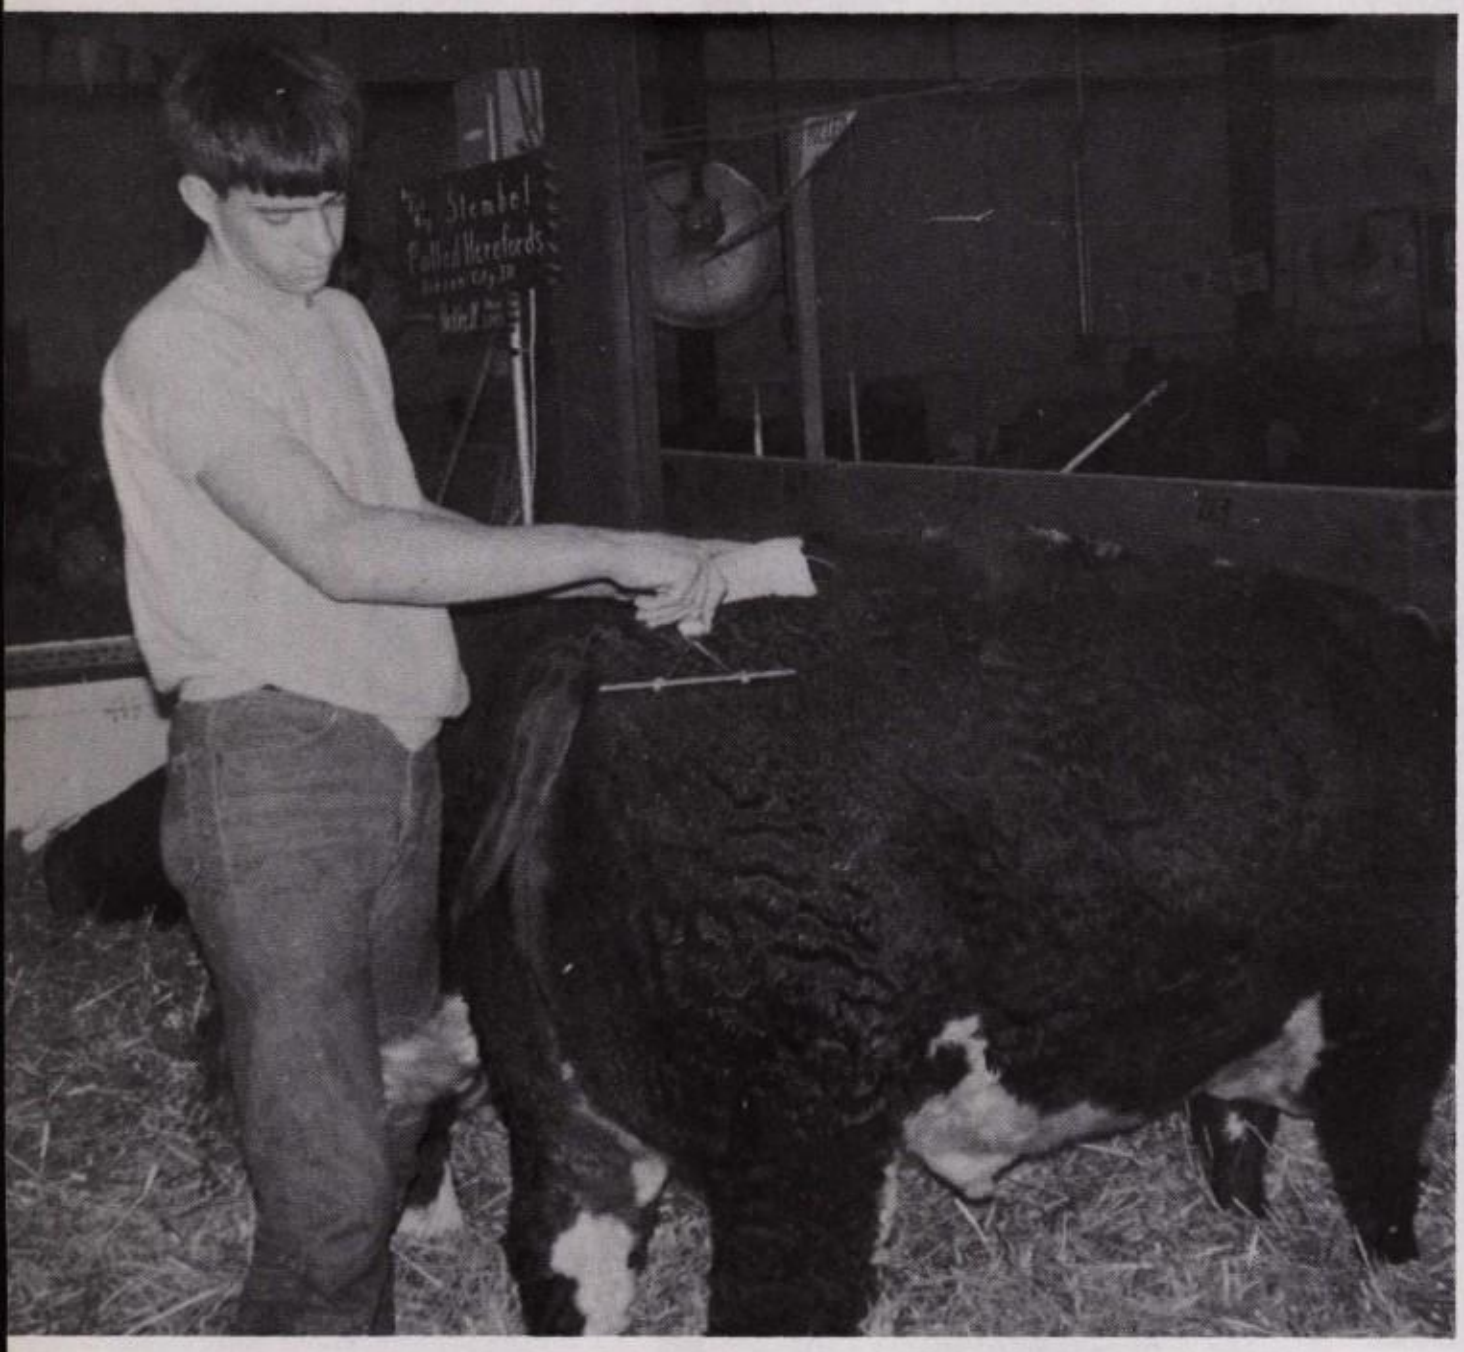
Agriculture is More



"Challenging Youth in Agriculture" was adopted as the motto for the Future Farmers this year. Keeping up with the schedule was a challenge in itself.

In October, Mr. Eicke and four members—Virl Hallet, Fred Blue, Elmer Walter, and Bruce Funk—attended the National FFA convention in Kansas City. In November, they were host to a grain fair. Members participated in a parliamentary procedure competition. National FFA Week was held February 17-24. Greenhands were promoted to chapter farmers on March 11. On March 28 they concluded their year with the annual FFA banquet.

The officers for this year were Virl Hallet, president; Joe Gretencord, vice-president; Fred Blue, secretary; Gary Grenter, treasurer; Elmer Walter, sentinel; and Steve Schute, reporter.

Before their final game, the Pirates held a winning streak of 12 straight games, and 13 of 14 games played. One of the high points of the season was the LaSalle-Peru game, where the Pirates gave the Cavaliers their only loss in a regular game of the season.

Co-captains of this year's team were Ken Herington and Randy Olson. Winning recognition for their efforts were Tom Haeberle, named to the first team of the North Central Conference team, Mike Barber, winning a second team position, and Ken Herington, winning honorable mention. Mike Barber and Tom Haeberle led in point totals, while Larry Carroll was leading rebounder.

Corsairs Today— Pirates Tomorrow

The Ottawa Corsairs wound up their 1967-68 basketball season with an impressive 18—6 record. Coach Jim Harris lead the JV's to capture the holiday tournament championship, third place in the Illinois Valley Conference, fourth in the NCIC, and another fourth place in the Bradley Invitational Tournament.

Wally Kistenfeger, with a 17.4 average, had a great season, leading the scorers with 418 of the Corsair's 1463 total points. Just as important to the team were the other starters, scoring as follows: Randy Fike with 232 points and 9.7 average, Mike Hoskinson with 209 for 8.7, Tom Colborn with 200 and 8.3, Terry Gross with 164 and 6.8, and Larry Ryan with 96 for a 4.2 average.

Fike pulled down an impressive 218 rebounds, while Kistenfeger (180) and Hoskinson (158) trailed him.

Gross led the starters in field goal percentage at .485, with Fike close behind at .443. Sinking the most free throws were Hoskinson, Kistenfeger, and Gross with .660, .642, and .641 respectively.

The Corsairs averaged an excellent 61.0 points per game, holding the opposition to only 49.0. These boys, together with the outstanding juniors of the varsity cagers, are promising to be one of the toughest squads Pirate rivals have ever had to face.

Second Hour Choir Records

Returning from a summer tour in the West, trip choir members joined the other Ottawa High School choir members for another busy school year under the direction of Mr. B. J. Muus.

The activity began with the second hour choir's recording of a commercial album "Music of Christmas," produced by Delta Records of Chicago.

The combined choirs again sang praises at the annual Christmas and Easter concerts. In the spring they presented a program of lighter numbers. The Arion Award was given to the outstanding senior second hour choir member.

During the year, the second hour choir also performed at an Adjudicators' Clinic sponsored by the Illinois Music Educators' Association as well as at several churches.

Choir members had a chance to sing with choir students from other towns at the NCIC and IMEA District II Music Festivals. Martha Spicer and Janet Muus participated in the chorus at the All-State Music Festival.

Another phase of the choir program was the ensembles, led by choir students. The ensembles performed for each other and for various organizations, as did the Madrigal Singers, a group selected and directed by Mr. Muus. Members of the Madrigal group were Peggy Hayward, Laurie Gage, Diana Hess, Sue Pearse, Pat Constantine, Ellen Sandrolini, Trina Smith, Janet Muus, Bob Pearse, Nick Worth, Mark Jameson, and Bob Sheaff.

Westward Ho!

On August 11, 1967, a forty-voice choir directed by Mr. Muus left on the most extensive tour and OHS choir group has ever taken. The twenty-day trip covered 6,375 miles through eleven states. Concerts were given in Lincoln, Nebraska; Longmont, Colorado; Pueblo, Colorado; Albuquerque, New Mexico; Tucson, Arizona; Prescott, Arizona; Kingman, Arizona; Torrance, California; Glendale, California; Santa Barbara, California; American Falls, Idaho; Riverton, Wyoming; Lead, South Dakota; Le Mars, Iowa; and the final concert in Ottawa, Illinois. Bus driver Walt Pitman and chaperons Jae Lynn Kinnison and Mary Ellen Laatz formed an integral part of the trip. Choir members will always remember the appreciative, hospitable audiences and the tea, toast, tamale pie, and grapes.

Band Wins 15th Straight Superior

Under the excellent direction of Ray Makeever, the OHS band has had a successful and enjoyable year. The band marched during pregame and halftime shows led by Co-Drum Majors Pat Long and Ruth Ann Schowalter. A pep band played at pep assemblies and the Red and White band played at all the basketball games. With the choir, the band gave the traditional Christmas and Easter concerts.

Band officers this year were Ruth Ann Schowalter, president; Pat Long, vice-president; Dean Erickson, secretary; and Pat Schleevogt, treasurer. Band representatives were Kathy Totel, junior; Diane Roesler, sophomore; and Dan Milosevich, freshmen. Second Band representatives were Debby Soken and Sally Jameson.

The band had a busy second semester with the Winter Concert on February 29 and then two weeks later it was contest time where the band again made important contributions to the prestige of OHS. On May 16 the band gave their annual Spring Concert and at that time the Arion Award was awarded to the outstanding senior. The band played for the last time together at graduation on June 7.

Musicians to Perform in Europe

Playing at the International Conference of Music this summer in Dijon, France will be Julie Dierstein, Ruth Ann Schowalter, Diane Roesler, and Ron Makeever. Martha Spicer will participate in the chorus.

Many-faceted aspects of the performing arts were presented November 17, in Kaleidoscope, in the OHS auditorium. These performances ranged from an interpretative dance by Laurie Jameson to a variety of musical numbers—vocal and instrumental—to a dramatic parody of a Greek legend, Helena's Husband.

The theater portions of the program, a take-off on Helen of Troy finds Helena taking part in an elopement planned by Menelaus, her husband, who arranges for Helena to run off with a young shepherd named Paris. However, when the King is about to enjoy life without the nagging of Helena, Analytikos, an eighty-year-old librarian takes matters into his own hands.

The cast was led by Muriel Worden as Helena. In other parts were Jean Davis as Taumo, Bruce Funk as Menelaus, Jim Varney as Paris, and Harold Anderson as Analytikos. Assisting Miss Reuther in the role of student director was Judy Royster.

Tuesday's Child gave a musical note to the November 17 function. Mr. Barry Moskowitz coached the group who sang popular songs. Members of Tuesday's Child are Sue Irion, Sue Pearse, Jerry Latino, Tammy Filder, Ron Makeever, Janel Hiland, Laurie Latino, Jack Knudtson, Sue Holm and Gene Weygandt.

Actors Harold Anderson, Bruce Funk, and Jean Davis appear in a scene from Helena's Husband.

During a crucial scene, Analytikos is surrounded by his soldiers.

Hours of hard work, cold bus rides at 5:30 a.m., and warm-up exercises conditioned the members of the speech team for their 1967-1968 season.

Ottawa High was host school for the Fourth Annual Ottawa Invitational Interp Meet, at which the team placed second. In NCIC Individual Events competition, Ottawa received second place.

Team members were especially pleased with winning the District contest and qualifying students in all ten events for the State Sectional. "Liliom", the contest play, ranked second in the District and also qualified for Sectional.

This year seven speakers gained the privilege of participating in the New Trier Tournament of Champions by winning first place in their event. They were Rich Ohlendorf, Radio-Speaking; Karol Johnson, Verse Reading; Judy Royster, and Ann Salmone, Prose Reading; Leah Gonigam, Original Monologue; and Eve Gonigam, Comedy Reading; Gay Cook, Extemporaneous Speaking.

Mr. John Duffin, head coach of individual events, was assisted by Miss Mary Fennessey, Mr. Judson Lusher, and Miss Jane Reuther.

Thespian Troupe 1140, a growing organization, continued to serve the school by announcing the assembly programs and sponsoring a dance in January. In May, the Thespians co-sponsored the Speech Awards Banquet with the NFL.

The most important features of this year's 1967-1968 debate squad were flexability, dependence on youth, rekindled interest, expanded as to include three levels, varsity, junior varsity and novice, and to be included as official members of the N.F.L. chapter.

The problem which required many hours of research and preparation was, resolved: That Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigations. Debaters in all three levels attacked the problem with good results. The varsity record stands at 50—50, the J.V. record at 24—19, and the novice with an excellent record of 29—25. Included on this year's schedule were Proviso East, I.S.U. Invitational, Illinois College, York Community High School, East Peoria Invitational, N.F.L. District and NCIC Debate Tournament, where varsity placed third. Future contests include U. of I., Sterling Invitational and the New Trier Tournament of Champions.

Members of the varsity, who are flexible enough to debate both affirmative and negative, are Paul Murdock, Bob Sheaff, Earl Heffley and Russ Zears; J.V. is composed of Bob Hill, Mike Mucci, Fritz Oppenlander, John Caruso, and Mike Heth. Bob Eschbach, John Duffin, Kim Novak, Creig Green, Bob Miner, Mary Schobert, Ann Brown, Rick Mulvaney, Wayne Mitchell and Bob Meling make up the novice team.

Mr. Ralph Eavenson coached the varsity, Mr. Judson Lusher instructed the novice and conducted the debate class, while Mr. Harry Adrian worked with the junior varsity.

Artists Create

Ideas bloomed in the minds of OHS art students, and these ideas produced many creative works of art. The ten art classes worked with various media: watercolors, oils, synthetics, tempera, pencil, pastels, and ink. Guided by Miss Joy Krueger and Miss Rebecca Aten, students made collages, pottery, material, rugs, prints, copper enameled articles, paintings, and drawings.

Art students displayed their works in the National Honor Society exhibit and in the Scholastic Art Awards contest, where twenty OHS students won Gold Key awards. Brynn Jensen, a fourth year art student, received sixteen awards: nine Gold Keys, six National Entries, and one Hallmark nominee.

Among the paintings added this year to the school collection were "Portrait of a Gentleman" by Gainsborough and "Miss Smith" by William Owen. These were donated by Miss Findlay and Mr. Wally Findlay, respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Frazer donated "End of the Trail," a statue by James Frazer.

Friday the 13th Lucky for Five

Queen Becky Grot and her court reigned over the 1967 Homecoming festivities. As Mr. Ray Makeever directed the band to 'Pomp and Circumstance', Debby Pike, freshman attendant; Janice Pallai, sophomore attendant; Leslie Smith, junior attendant, and Atha Hilliard, senior attendant took their places on the platform. Following her attendants dressed in red velvet, Becky Grot ascended her regal throne wearing the traditional long white formal.

Before the coronation, seniors presented a skit 'The East Side Story', a take-off on the musical 'West Side Story'. In charge of the script were seniors Karol Johnson, Dianne Sutherland, Ruth Ann Scholwalter, Gay Cook, and Genela Gregor. Advisors were Mrs. Dorothy Jensen and Miss Mary Fennessey.

The Friday the thirteenth football game proved to be lucky for the Pirates with a win over Streator of 20—6. Following the band and Pommerettes half time show were class floats with sophomores "Let's Pour it on" winning first place in the float competition. Juniors captured second place with freshmen and seniors tied for third. The court arrived in convertibles and were escorted across King Field by top ranking military officers.

Festivities for 1967 homecoming closed with the annual dance in Kingman Gym following the game. The civic council and Mr. T. O. Zimmerman, advisor, sponsored this the first social activity of the year.

With "Blue Velvet" as its theme, the annual Military Ball marked the 51st year of the military program at OHS.

Johnny Kaye and his 12-piece orchestra provided music as 102 couples danced in Kingman Gym on Thanksgiving Eve from 9 to midnight.

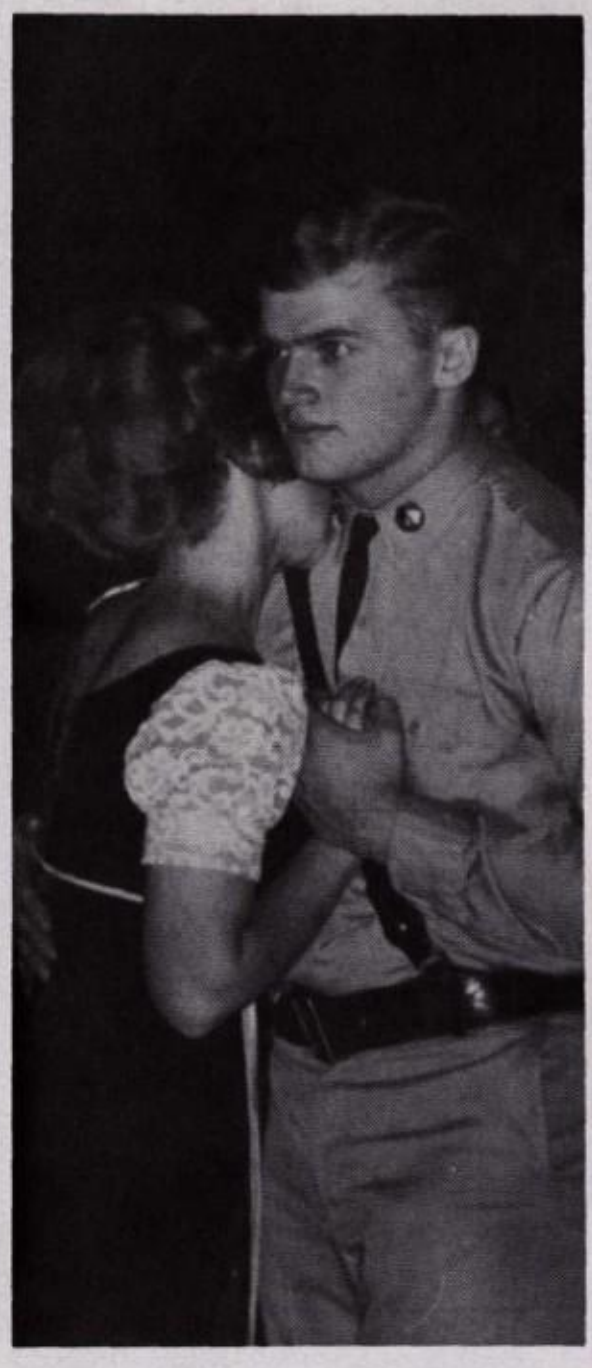
Adding a martial appearance, all cadets were attired in military uniforms.

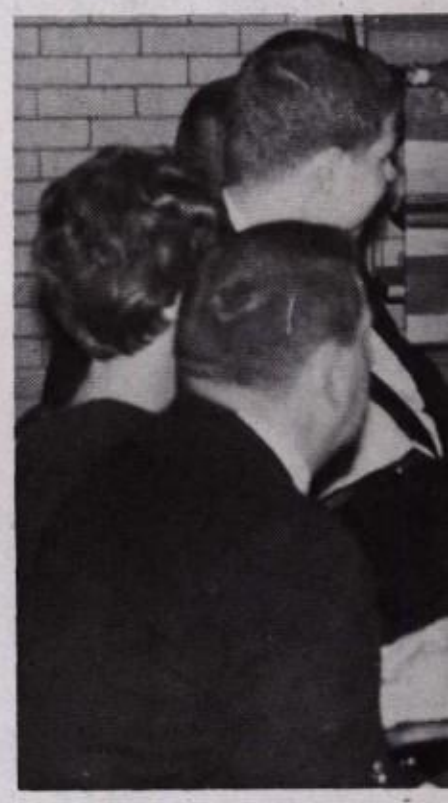
The gym was decorated with both light and dark blue streamers and accented by a bridge at the entry. Also, a large replica of the Cadet Corps emblem surrounded by the American and Cadet Corps flags was displayed.

Top-ranking military officers and their dates led the Grand March mid-way through the evening.

Mr. Nicholas Milosevich, OHS director of the Cadet Corps, sponsored the occasion with the help of faculty members who acted as chaperones.

Lost in the splendor of the 'Blue Velvet' mood, Jean Snell and Larry Pike enjoy a number.



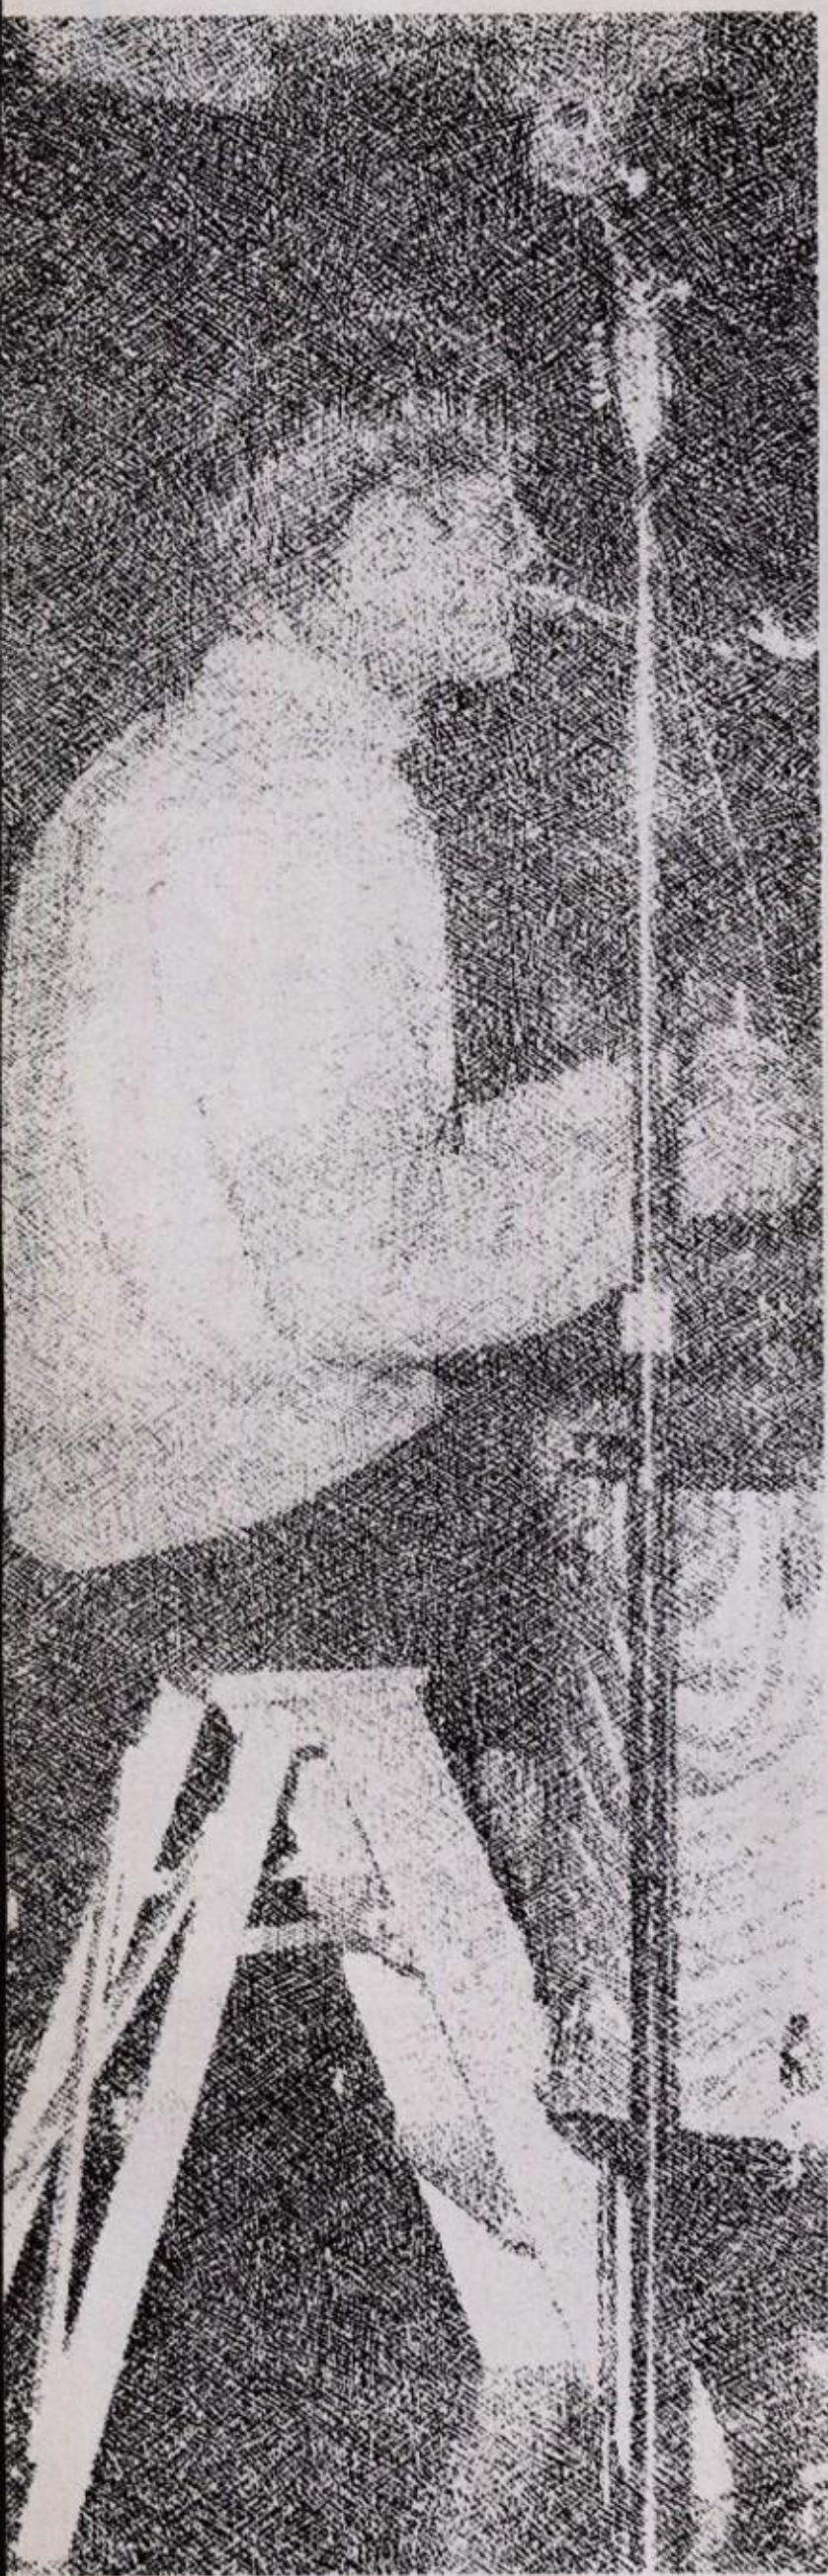


Drawing a regal finale to the annual ball, leading officers and their dates Chanda Charles, Major Jim Zidow; Linda Bault, Major Joel Cechowicz; Martha Spicer, Lieutenant Colonel Randy Olson; Lynne Renwick, Colonel Ken Herington begin the grand march.

Showing the typical male reaction when such refreshments are presented, Mr. Walter Bounds, Jim Harmon, and Wayne Pike rush towards the punch bowl.

With extreme care, Sally Patton and Bill Rieman enter the magical land of Blue Velvet.

Unable to keep up with the pace, faculty members sit one out, complimenting Mr. Nicholas Milosevich on the night's festivities.



During the "Startrek" dance following first semester exams, Patty Bault and Randy Perino dance up a storm.
